

What should I already know?	Vocabulary	How can animals be grouped based on their needs for survival?	Learning Journey
- There are 5 animal groups - Animals eat different foods such as meat, fish, plants. - Name some parts of the body	Insect- A small animal with 6 legs. 	Working Scientifically ??? What do all mammals need to survive?	Understand what mammals need to survive.
What do animals eat? Carnivore – an animal that eats other animals 	Gills- the part of the body that fish use to breathe. 	How do mammals that live in water breathe air?	Explain how mammals who live in water breathe air.
Herbivore – an animal that eats plants 	Fin – Helps a fish to swim and stay balanced. 	Do the oldest children have the most teeth?	Explain and understand what birds and fish need to survive.
Omnivore – an animal that eats plants and other animals 	Mammal – an animal with fur or hair on its body. 	Do the youngest children have the fewest teeth?	Explain why amphibians and reptiles are the same or different to other animal groups in terms of survival.
Sticky Knowledge - Animals have offspring that grow. - All animals need shelter, water, food, and air to survive. - Animals can have different amounts of light and still survive. - It is important to eat a range of foods.	Shelter – a place that gives protection from weather and danger. 	Is there a pattern between age and number of teeth?	Know what a baby needs to survive compared to an adult.
			Explain how the needs of humans are the same or different to animals.
			Understand and explain how humans stay healthy.